Windows
Software

This windows software application is provided to support professional office work on a daily basis. It is providing a large format time and date illustration combined with daily notes management. It is compatible to Windows 64-bit Systems. Please inform me in case the published version of this Software is not compatible with your Windows System.

In order to Start using this Software:

1. It requires a functional Windows 64-bit System.
2. There are 2 different download versions available, where the one version is executive file zipped. The advantage of downloading executive file is that the application can be started immediately after download and unzip, without common installations. The second download version is as usually known installation setup file. From recent experiences, it seems that Windows 10 and higher is blocking opening executive files as provided in the zipped version. Therefore, if you are using Win 10 or above then the best way to start using this application is by installing it through the setup file. If using Windows 7 64-bit, then the zipped executive file can be also used.
3. When starting the installation through setup file, under Windows 10 and higher, there should be a windows warning message asking to confirm that the software developer as certified is trustful. This warning should be ignored and continue the installation.
4. There is less to non concern about potential viruses as in case the software becomes infected by viruses then Win 10 Defender would very soon recognize the infection and quarantine or remove the file. Therefore, it is quite safe!
5. After successful installation find the opening icon for the application under the Start Menu.
